The Routledge Companion to the Makers of Modern Entrepreneurship

Edited by David B. Audretsch and Erik E. Lehmann
Contents

1 Makers of modern entrepreneurship
   David B. Audretsch and Erik E. Lehmann
   1

2 The godfather of entrepreneurship
   Zoltan J. Acs
   Introduction  3
   The New School  4
   WZB and Small Business Economics  6
   The geography of innovation  6
   The Max Planck Institute of Economics  7
   George Mason University  7
   The London School of Economics  10

3 Fifty years in the making: my career as a scholar of organizations and entrepreneurship
   Howard E. Aldrich
   Introduction  14
   Academic beginnings  14
   Finding a community of scholars at Cornell  16
   Early work on business succession in cities in the United States and England  16
   Stanford University  18
   Developing an appreciation of evolutionary thinking  19
   The resource dependence perspective  20
   Becoming an entrepreneurship scholar  21
   Organizations evolving  23
   Graduate students' contributions  24
   Current research on the maker movement  25
   Looking forward: advice to young scholars  21
   Closing thoughts  28
Contents

4 Roots and wings

David B. Audretsch

- The setting 32
- Discovering small business 33
- Taking innovation seriously 33
- The Schumpeterian paradox 34
- Resolving the Schumpeterian paradox: entrepreneurship 35
- The missing W of economics 35
- Scaling up 36
- The entrepreneurial society 38
- Final thoughts 40

5 The effects of business ownership on people's lives

Sara Carter

- Getting into entrepreneurship research 42
- Getting on in entrepreneurship research 43
- Entrepreneurship and agricultural restructuring 44
- The lived experiences of the small business owner 45
- Women entrepreneurs: still not accessing finance 48
- Economic well-being in the entrepreneurial household 49
- Looking backward and forward: advice to young scholars 50

6 Back to the roots

Marc Cowling

- Academic provenance 53
- Building a research career 54
- The halcyon days 56
- Breaking the apron strings 58
- The middle years 59
- My future research 62
- Suggestions for young researchers 62

7 A research journey into entrepreneurial finance

Douglas J. Cumming and Silvio Vismara

- Introduction 64
- Toward research in entrepreneurial finance 65
- How research on IPOs evolved 68
- How research on crowdfunding might evolve 69

8 What an opportunity!

Per Davidsson

- Background 74
- Dissertation: small firm growth 75
SMEs, job creation, and regional development 76
Nascent entrepreneurship 78
Further studies of small firm growth 80
Conceptualization of entrepreneurship and "entrepreneurial opportunities"

9 Finding myself staring at the future
Dimo Dimov

Introduction 91
Hooked on opportunity 92
The glasses of experience 92
From insight to intention 93
Beyond single person, single insight 94
Opportunity confidence and two types of success 95
Grappling with the unbearable elusiveness 96
No time for time 98
Where next? 99

10 Judgement, the theory of the firm, and the economics of institutions: my contributions to the entrepreneurship field
Nicolai N. Foss

Introduction: the reluctant entrepreneurship scholar 101
Personal background 101
Early work 103
Entrepreneurship, governance, and organizational design 105
Entrepreneurship and the classical Coasian questions 105
Entrepreneurship and organizational design in the established firm 107
Entrepreneurship, institutions, and economic growth 109
Coda 111

11 Entrepreneurship and growth: a personal story
Michael Fritsch

Introduction 116
Finding the topic 116
The effect of new businesses on regional development 118
Regional entrepreneurship culture 124
Conclusions and further questions 125

12 Anecdotes of destiny
William B. Gartner

Introduction 130
Family and background 130
Ideas and their origins 132
Entrepreneurship as variation 133
Contents

Entrepreneurship as organizing 137
Scholarship as community 140
Impact 142

13 An Austrian perspective on firms and markets: my contributions to entrepreneurship theory 146
Peter G. Klein

Introduction 146
Austrian economics, entrepreneurship, and the theory of the firm 147
The judgment-based view 148
Reflections on Kirzner 150
Moving forward 150

14 Corporate entrepreneurship: a research journey 154
Donald F. Kuratko

The beginning in entrepreneurship 154
The evolution into corporate entrepreneurship 155
Developing the CEAI 156
Insights into managerial levels 157
Defining the domains of CE 159
Examining control and failure 160
Framing a corporate entrepreneurial strategy 161
The journey continues 162

15 From integrating functions to integrating ideas 167
Albert N. Link

What was in that residual? 167
Public—private research partnerships 168
The Journal of Technology Transfer 169
Public-sector entrepreneurship 169

16 Location matters 172
Olav Sorenson

Introduction 172
Stanford University 172
Industrial clusters 174
Home sweet home 175
University of Toronto 176
Syndication networks 176
Venture capital and economic growth 177
Business schools 178
Entrepreneurship and inequality 178
17 Visions of the past: wish you had been there
Roy Tlrurik

Some introduction  181
Some more introduction  182
In the beginning there was productivity and pricing 183
Embedment, encounters and economics  184
Discovering small business economics  185
The E of SBE  186
Policy and the business cycle  187
Finally, some entrepreneurship research  188
Hello, biology  189
Looking back and ahead  190

18 A place for entrepreneurship
Mary Lindenstein Walshok

Introduction: early career  202
Regional transformation through innovation and entrepreneurship  204
Lessons learned from a dynamic innovation economy  206
The power of connected entrepreneurial teams  209
Conclusion: research needs to better document cultural factors and social dynamics  210

19 Wandering between contexts
Friederike Welter

Introduction: it's all about context!  213
How it all started  213
The distinctiveness of entrepreneurship in a transition context 217
Context matters  219
Contextualizing entrepreneurship research  222
And now? Contextualising entrepreneurship theory and policy  225
Moving on: who are the makers of future entrepreneurship? 226

20 Re-search = me-search
fohan Wiklund

Introduction: why and how it all started  233
Dissertation research on the growth of firms  234
Entrepreneurial orientation  236
Stockholm  238
Wining and dining  239
Working with PhD students  240
Entrepreneurship and mental health: still crazy after all these years  241
In closing  243
Contents

21  The conquest of interestingness: entrepreneurial ownership mobility
Mike Wright

Introduction 246
My back pages 246
Maggie's farm 247
Fourth time around 250
Tlie world of research has gone berserk 251
No direction home 253
Still on the road, heading/or another joint 254

22  Researching entrepreneurship at the intersection: reflections on three decades of research
Shaker A. Zahra

Introduction 259
Learning about entrepreneurship 259
Research at the intersection 261
Focus on corporate entrepreneurship 262
Diversity, variety and context 262
International and internationalization 265
Expanding boundaries 267
Entrepreneurship as knowledge 269
The invisible college and idea factory 270
Lessons and moving forward 271
Conclusion 272

Index 277